

ethnographic terminalia

exhibition as residency

chicago
2013

gallery encounter

November 18 - 22, 2013

Arts Incubator in Washington Park

Second Floor Project Flex Space
301 E. Garfield Boulevard, Chicago, IL 60637

Exhibition Hours

M|W|TR: 12-3pm

F | 12-6pm

Reception & Closing Event

Friday November 22, 2013

6-9pm

Ethnographic Terminalia is an initiative that brings artists and anthropologists together to engage in emerging research through exhibition.

Exhibition as Residency is an installation of several international collaborative projects that visitors are invited to interact with in the gallery. Join us in exploring what lies within and beyond the disciplinary territories of art and anthropology, and how collaborations can shape new communities and representations of cultural practice.

Reception & Closing Event

Date: Friday 22 November 2013

Time: 6-9pm

Come out to meet with artists, anthropologists, and local community members to experience the work produced during “Exhibition as Residency—Art, Anthropology, Collaboration”. Video screenings, paintings, First Nations knitting, a shrine, fashion & textile design, as well as a site-specific sculptural habitat will all be on display. Participating artists and anthropologists will be present to talk with about their work.

For more information visit:

www.ethnographicterminalia.org/2013galleryencounters

Reception Supported by:

